

Top panel:

Manual location select screen:

Travel spots screen and fashion/shopping screen

In these screens, the slider down can be swiped up and down, it has search , with filters in the top, below that there is a grid of sub categorization (which is actually new feature. These categories are manually created by the user, and our ai should carefully add the saves into those sub categories as well). Below the sub category grid , there is the list of all the saves.

Same ui design goes for other recipe, watch, inspo etc... screens as well.
